THE VISION

MISSION

To digitally include and empower South Africa's informal economy — enabling people to trade, pay, earn, and support their communities with ease.

WHY WE EXIST

In townships, trade is vibrant — but digital tools often leave local communities behind. eJuuZ was created to bridge that gap, making it possible for anyone with a phone to transact, earn, and thrive digitally, without needing expensive data or banking access

BUILT FOR COMMUNITIES

We partner with local traders, youth, drivers, churches, NGOs, and agents to create a truly community-driven economy. From Soweto to Mamelodi, from Khayelitsha to Umlazi — eJuuZ is made for you.

MOVE WITH US

eJuuZ is the first digital wallet in South Africa that allows township residents to instantly convert CashSend and eWallet funds into spendable digital value—no ATM, no bank account, no delays.

FAQS

What can i buy or sell on eJuuZ?

You can buy and sell groceries, home goods, clothing, services, event tickets, and more. As long as it's legal and community-friendly, eJuuZ supports it.

Do I need a bank account to use eJuuZ?

No. eJuuZ supports bank-free transactions using services like FNB eWallet, Capitec CashSend, ABSA CashSend, and others.

Who can use eJuuZ?

Anyone! Shoppers, small-scale merchants, local delivery drivers, NGOs, and donors can all use the platform to trade, earn, or give.

ABOUT US

eJuuZ is a digital marketplace and payment platform designed for township and peri-urban communities. We exist to make trade, payments, and community support easier, safer, and more inclusive — with or without a bank account.

Founded with the vision to empower informal traders, small merchants, and local shoppers, eJuuZ provides a simple, mobile-friendly platform that supports buying, selling, sending money, and giving back to communities.
